will see Becker's fate in the hands of the will see Becker's fate in the hands of the jury.

Save for the failure to get the bank accounts in evidence and for the discrediting by Mr. McIntyre of one of the witnesses against Becker the case of the State went forward effectively and convincingly. Points in the testimony of Rose and Schepps were corroborated. The night telephone operator in the Times Building testified that he made a connection with Audubon 6694 at 2:57 A. M. on July 18. Audubon 6694 is the telephone number of the Belleclaire apartment house, where Lieut. Becker lived at the time of the murder. Jack Rose had sworn that he had called up Becker "about 3 A. M." to give the news of the killing and that Becker had congratulated him and had told him that "he would be right downtown."

town."
The night hallboy at the Belleclaire testified that "long after midnight" he had received a call for Becker and that he had made the connection with Becker's him enough time in which to cross-examine Rose and threatened to make this one of the points of appeal if appeal became Telephone Operator Testifies.

The first witness at the morning session was John Carney of 28 Grove street, Jersey City, who was the telephone operator on duty at the public switchboard near the subway entrance in the basement of the Times Building on the night of July 15. Carney said that he was the only operator on duty that night. Assistant District Atterney Moss asked:

"What connection did you make at 2:57
A. M.?"

Carney had been unable of course to recall the numbers of various calls he made late on the night of July 15, but when Mr. Moss put before him the record sheet on which he had written down the calls he was able to recall that he had made a connection for Audubon 6694. Mr. Hart for the defence insinuated that Carney had been permitted to study the sheet before taking the witness stand, but the court decided that the records of the telephone company spoke for themselves and that Carney should be allowed to identify his own handwriting.

"Was that the only call you made at that time?" continued Mr. Moss.

"It was," replied the operator.

Lucius Haywood, a negro hallboy at the Belleclaire apartment house, at Edge-combe avenue and 165th street, was called. After he got over his nervousness Mr. Moss asked him few questions—if Lieut. Becker had lived in the Belleclaire on July 15 and 16, 1912; if Audubon 6694 was the telephone number of the house, and if he had made a telephone connection for Becker on the morning of July 16. The boy gave affirmative answers to these questions. He then testified that he had not received any calls for other persons late on the night of July 15. He saidthat Lieut Becker had left the house soon after getting the phone call.

Mr. Hart went after the witness pretty roughly on cross-examination, but the boy's answers shook the gravity of the

ns. She gave her testimony without hesitating and with an apparent desire to be strictly truthful. Mr. Moss

Q. Did you ever live with him at No. 747 Southern Boulevard. A. Yes, sir. O. How lobg did you live there? A. For wo and a half months.

Q. When was this? A. Until July 14. Q. Where did you go from there? Rockaway Beach.

white, Lewis, Dago Frank, Harry Horo-witz, Jack Rose and Sam Schepps. She had seen all of these at the apartment in the Southern Boulevard. Then Mrs. Rosenberg was cross-examined.

O. When did you conclude to become witness!for the State? A. Yesterday.
Q. Whom did you talk to? A. Mr. Moss. Q. Where did you talk to him? A. At the given aid? A. No. sir.

Q. Have you communicated with your husband since his arrest? A. Yes; I sent him two letters.

Q. Did you say anything in those letters about the fact that if you took the stand for the People it would help his case? A.

Vallon or Sam Schepps? A. Not since Q. Do you know what your husband's

A. I do not know. Q. By what other name was he known only knew him as Mr. Rosenberg.

Q. Was your husband at the scene of the

Q. Now, young woman, is it not a fact that you saw Schepps in your house in the latter part of May, 1012? A. I think it was in June. If you can find out the day that

Jack Selig was arrested, that is the day It developed presently that the witness had in mind the subsequent arrest of Zelig on June 9, so the defence lost whatever advantage was gained in making the girl say that it was in May she had seen Schepps in her apartment. The examination continued:

Q. Did you hear any conversation be en Schepps and your husband on May Just say yes or no. A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long was that conversation? About twenty minutes.
Q. In what part of the flat was that? A ouis was sick in bed then.

Q. How many times after May 12 did you ee Schepps at your house? A. Never again. Q. Did you hear what Sam Schepps and fack Rose said to your husband? A. I did The next witness was William Reilly, who rented the gunmen the apartment they occupied at 2529 Seventh avenue after they gave up their Southern Boulevard retreat. He said that in June he of the said that in June he had rented an apartment on the fourth every paper in the city.

EYEGLASSES

We like to talk about our new store—(Fifth Avenue at 27th St.) because it is not only an agreeable place to which to invite people, but an establishment that stands for the best there is in optical matters—the creating and adjusting of eyeglasses as well as everything pertaining to the optician.

We invite you to the new optical headquarters. Prices the same as in our other stores.

237 FIFTH AVENUE (27th St.)
125 WEST 42nd ST. (Nr. B'way)
650 MADISON AVE. (Cr. 60th St.)
104 EAST 23rd ST. (4th Avenue)
255 LIVINGSTON ST. (Brooklyn) New York

The State had for its next witness Max Margolis, who was a sort of press agent for Becker in the days of the lieutenant's raiding activities.

Margolis made an affidavit two months

Q. You never were what is caled a legitimate reporter? A. No. sir. Q. Have you acted as a stool pigeon for Q. Did you ever get evidence for the police? A. Once.

Q. When was that? A. A friend of mine took me to a house in West Thirty-seventh street and I told Becker and he told me to take Ferisch, one of his men, to the place. Q. Was it a gambling house? A. No, it to taking an affidavit. When I said I would take it we went out and got into a taxi and proceeded to 156th street and Amsterdam avenue, where Mr. Becker left us.

TWO WITNESSES AGAINST BECKER

Q. About what time did you meet them?

A. A little after 10 o'clock.
Q. What time was that? A. It must have been around fifteen or twenty minutes after 10.

Q. Where did you go? A. We proceeded up the block. Mr. Hart did not know the number of the house. He said the name was the Riveria. The hallboy said he did not know if Pollok was at home and we went up and rang the bell. A lady came to the door and led us through the hall into the apartment.

Q. Did you hear anything that Mr. Hart said to the lady when he went in? A. No

Q. How long were you in the apartment? A. About fifteen minutes.

Signed It "Jacob Rose." Q. Was an affidavit sworn there? A Yes, one was filled out. Rose got off of the bed and said, "I'll sign it Jacob Rose." I asked if he would swear that it was the truth and he said that he would and I tool my hat and left the room.

Q. Did you during that conversation speak of the Rosenthal murder? A. I was startled when I came to the name of Rosenthal in the affidavit and I said that it was too bad that a man should be build to the transfer.

killed in that way.
Q. Did Rose say anything? A. No.
Q. Did either Mr. Hart or Mr. Rose say Q. What was your idea in telling Becker?
A. I knew it, was his business to break up those places.

A. I think Mr. Rose said he did not see from what he read in the papers that the Dis-see how many voices voie "Aye" pull up stakes in the "high rent zone" and move TERMINAL.

You'll be surprised. A Manhattan Ferry at the front door for those who insist on paying Manhattan

A new subway at the back door. A "city of homes" all around you-with every department of labor well supplied with happy hands.

The easiest way to win the hearts of your employees is to establish your business in the heart of their homes. Labor never moves away from an tablished source of work. If you are not interested in economies perhaps this alone will arouse a desire to investigate Bush Terminal. Write for our book on "Economy."

Bush Terminal Co.

General Offices: 100 Broad Street, New York City

Savings Bank, one of the banks in which Savings Bank, one of the banks in which Becker deposited, was the next witness. Here began the fight of the District Attorney to get in its graft evidence against Becker. Mr. McIntyre promptly objected to a question as to whether or not Becker opened an account with the bank. Assistant District Attorney Moss argued that he purposed to question witnesses about Becker's bank accounts so as to establish that Becker was obtaining large sums of money and that Becker therefore had a motive for stopping the mouth of an informer. The jurors were excused while Moss and McIntyre fought out the question.

question.
Mr. McIntyre made a skilful argument against the admission of any evidence tending to show that Becker was a grafter. He had prepared his law points carefully. He had prepared his law points carefully. He argued that there was no evidence to show that Herman Rosenthal knew that Becker was piling up money in the banks. The defence would be ready to meet extortion charges when the District Attorney indicted Becker for extortion, said Mr. McIntyre. Becker was not on trial for extortion, but for murder, and it was improper to admit extortion evidence.

MAX MARGOLIS

Tict Attorney wanted him , but that if he did he would go down in the morning, and to the best of my recollection Mr. Hart told him to do so.

The State scored another success when Barter testified that he saw a man in the hall of Pollok's apartment when he left the place with Mr. Hart. Schepps had testified that he was reading a book in the hall.

Judge Parker, in the "Peaches" Stephenson case (the case of a policeman who was convicted after the Lexow investigation of extorting a few baskets of peaches) had written an opinion that the prosecution had no right to introduce evidence concerning the defendant's case, had decided on appeal that when the prosecution had direct evidence connecting a defendant with crime the introduction of circumstantial evidence (such as the bank accounts would have been in the present case) was wholly improper.

Bank Accounts Are Excluded. Judge Parker, in the "Peaches" Stephen-the place with sit.

Hart then cross-examined Mr. Barter, agross-examination that appeared to be of no special value to the defendant and which seemed to be designed to straighten out Hart's own psoition before the jury. Hart produced and read the affidavit he had obtained from Rose, the one in which Rose said that the $1,500 lent to Rosenthal came from him, not from Becker; that Rose had heard Rosenthal say he would break? Becker because of the raid, and that Rose was Rosenthal's gambling partner. On Saturday Rose told the jury that he had committed perjury when he made that affidavit and that Becker and that Rose was Rosenthal's gambling partner. On Saturday Rose told the jury that he had committed perjury when he made that affidavit and that Becker and the sess further. Mr. McIntyre had taken in the papers showing that a mortgage becker's man get any evidence?

A the opening of the afternoon session the first witness was William Haupt of his questions for several hours had been executed on Rosenthal's household furniture on March 7, 1912, and been executed on Rosenthal's household furniture on March 7, 1912, and the string partner. This magnanimity of the District Attorney at this time has certainly taken and the string partner. This magnanimity of the District Attorney at this time has certainly taken and the string partner. The provided it was difficult to connect case is a case of circumstantial evidence and if important circumstantial eviden "This magnanimity of the District Attorney at this time has certainly taken

He consulted with Hart and then said he was not prepared to question Rose further. Mr. Moss was allowed to ask the witness what he had collected for

"Money," said Rose.

The State then rested its case, and Mr. McIntyre announced that Mr. Hart would make the opening address for the defence at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Lieut. Becker was asked as he left court if he wanted to make a statement about the nature of the testimony thus. about the nature of the testimony thus far.

"I will tell my story on the stand,"

to make any comment other than to say that he was pleased with the evidence which the prosecution had put before the Hope Becker Will Testify.

There is no doubt that the District Attorney and his assistant hope that Becker will be put on the stand. That way only is there a chance to get the bank accounts

Assistant District Attorney De Ford, who is coming across the ocean with Thomas C. Coupe, the employee of the Elks Club who saw something of the Elks Club who saw something of the Rosenthal murder, yesterday sent a wire-less from Halifax to his chief. The message to Mr. Whitman stated that he and Coupe were well. They are on the Mauretania, due here to-day. Coupe will probably be used as a witness for the State for rebuttal.

The first witness for the defence will yeary likely he former District Attorney.

very likely be former District Attorney Jerome, who is prepared to testify that he was present in a room at the Bar Association when Lieut. Becker called Rose on the phone and told Rose that he was sending Lawyer Hart up to see him.

SOLD AS ROSENTHAL RELICS. Articles Said to Have Been in Gambling House Go to Women.

A score of well dressed women rowded into an auction room yesterday to bid for Turkish rugs which were advertised to have lain on the floors of the gambling house of Herman Rosenthal. The collection was valued by the auctioneer at $3,000. The highest price bid was $135 for a mohair rug.

Bidding for the most part was slow he sales amounted to $6,200

William S. Devery, ex-Chief of Police was present in the afternoon. He made

The greatest interest centred on an off painting of a racehorse named Isia, which belonged to Rosenthal while h was a bookmaker, and which was said o have made considerable money for its owner. The painting brought $45.

Wants Appraiser's Expenses Item

State Comptroller Sohmer filed objection resterday in the Surrogate's office to the ransfer tax appraisal of the estate of Frank Vork, under which the appraiser deducted 150 0.00 for administration expenses but liddly mention the items. He also objected o certain allowances as debts, including ees to lawyers and detectives in connection with the divorce got by Mrs. Burke-Roche rem Aurel Betters.

Contented Labor ALL the roll of your factory, and see how many REFUSES TO GET BAIL to a proposal to Little Falls Sheriff Nabs Schenectady Mayor and Six Associates.

over to BUSH WIFE SAW HIM LOCKED UP

Militia to Be Called Out. if Necessary to Stop Socialist Orators.

Utica, N. Y., Oct. 17.—George R. Lunn. Socialist Mayor of Schenectady, and six of his coworkers from that city are locked in the Herkimer county jail to-night following their arrest in Little Falls this afternoon on a charge of rioting.

Mayor Lunn, Mrs. Lunn and a number of other Socialist orators attempted to address groups of striking employees of the Phoenix Mills in Little Falls in defiance of the ordinance which prohibits the delivering of speeches in the public streets without a permit, and Sheriff Moon and several of his depu-ties swooped down on the agitators. They caught eight, but permitted Mrs. Lunn to go.
Subsequently Mayor Lunn and his companions were arraigned and held in $1,000 bail each. They refused to furnish bond, and to-night were removed to the county jall in Herkimer. Their examination will be held in Little Falls to-morrow afternoon.

This is the second time Mayor Lunn has been arrested after attempting to address the Little Falls strikers, his first trial concluding yesterday. Decision has not yet been rendered by the court.

His arrest this afternoon on the charge of rioting will prove a more serious affair, since the Herkimer county District Attorney will prosecute the case against the Mayor and his com-panions and will exert every energy to

To-day's raid by the Sheriff's deputies, who have superseded the Little Falls police in dealing with the situation, occurred during a recess in the trial of Robert Bakaman, the former Schenectady clergyman, who has been arrested five times in the past three days for attempting to address the mill After the court ordered a recess in the trial the Socialist orators at once made their way to Clinton Park, where the arrests had been made previously. When Sheriff Moon and the police officers arrived Mrs. Lunn was engaged in reading to the crowd an editorial from a New York paper bearing on the local situation. She was escorted to police court by one of the officials, but was not put under arrest. Seven others, including Mayor Lunn, were others, including Mayor Lunn, were bundled into a patrol wagon and hurried to Police Headquarters, while a crowd of strikers surrounded the building.

After the arrests had been made Sheriff Moon went in front of the police station and read the "riot act" to the crowd, which numbered between 300 and 400. He said that hereafter not more than twenty persons would be allowed to congregate in any one place upon the streets. The crowd dispersed after he had finished speaking.

The Herkimer county authorities announced to-night that the work of Socialist agitators among the Little Falls strikers must cease and that if necessary they will order out the militia to prevent what they insist are unlawful assemblages.

Those arrested this afternoon in addition to Mayor Lunn are Robert Bakaman, Harvey Simmons, John Lenehy, Frederick Hirsch, Louis Lesnicke and Anthony Deguerre. All but Lesnicke are residents of Schenectady.

are residents of Schenectady. To-night Mayor Lunn made this statement in police headquarters: "When the right to tell strikers that hey have the right to strike is denied there is no further chance of a peace ful solution. I tell you there is a stirring unrest which is disgusted against the poverty that exists; against the injustice existing, that will be quelled by the solution of the problem, and it will be done peacefully, or it will be done otherwise. If I am not to come to Little Falls without renting some capitalist's hall, if I am a poor man am not allowed to speak to my fellows in the open, then I tell you liberty is dead.

"I do not want to live longer if I may District Attorney Whitman was in a not speak in the public places. Rather thappy mood when he got to his office than surrender my freedom of speech I would rot in your rotten bastile. If this session of the Becker trial. He declined is possible in America, America is as is possible in America, America is as had as Russia.

speech in Little Falls. If they will not grant it to the people there will be troubuild them now. And if you want to get barns, get them. We will speak and we will continue to speak." The strike, which originated in the Phoenix mills and which was agitated by the intrusion of Mayor Lunn, has spread to the Gilbert mills. A number of foreigners employed there went on strike to-night.

Speyer & Co.'s Cashier for 50 Years to Make Trip Alone.

Speyer & Co. for more than fifty years and is now cashier, will start on Saturday for a trip around the world. He s 71 years old. All his service in business has been with the Speyers in the New York office, with the exception of the first two years after he began work at 18. The firm celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his work with them recently by giving a dinner. Mr. Sauter was born in Baden, but came to this country when a child. He is unmarried and will make the trip alone, sailing on the Cleveland. He will be gone until the middle of February.

FOUR LOST WITH BARGES.

Captain's Daughter Victim of Disaster on Lake Ontario. WATERTOWN, Oct. 17 .- Early to-day the barges H. B. and Buckley broke loose from the tug Proctor near Galloup Island in Island gives to it a soft, velvety finish. It is fine for dispelling the oily. from the tug Proctor near Galloup Island in Lake Ontario and four persons were drowned. Three were members of the crew of the H. B. The fourth was Alice, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Capt. Derrick Doroche. Capt. Nelson of the Proctor saved the rest of the crew of the H. B. Capt. Doroche and his son Elmer were rescued after they had spent all night on the top of the pilot house, which had floated off. The crew of the Buckley was rescued.

The loats belonged to the Ontario Coal and Towing Company of Ogdensburg and were loaded with coal bound from the coal bound from the coal bound from the coal bound from the coal source of the crew of the Buckley was rescued.

The loats belonged to the Ontario Coal and Towing Company of Ogdensburg and were loaded with coal bound from the c

Each account is a separate unit, is always found in one place ready for instant ref-erence, or in emergency your entire office force can work on the Card Ledger without interfering with each other.

Balances and statements can thereby be prepared promptly without rush or night work.

Library Bureau

Manufacturing distributors of eard and filing systems. Office, library and bank equipment valt eard and filing exhibate in wood and steel 316 Broadway, New York Phone, 1409 Worth Salesrooms in leading cities in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and France.

"BUNNY" NOT A WITNESS TO SAVE MACFARLAND

Miss Bromley Was Ready to Testify if She Was Called in His Behalf.

CASE GOES TO JURY TO-DAY

Man Accused of Murdering Wife Explains Letters From Sweetheart.

The case of Allison M. MacFarland, on trial in Newark for the second time for the murder of his wife on October 18, 1911, will go to the jury this morning. MacFarland was on the witness stand in his own defence for six hours yesterday...
The defendant told of his relations with Florence Bromley, the young Philadelphia woman who wrote the "Bunny" letters. He also testified concerning talks he had had with his wife about a divorce. MacFarland exhibited self-possession and was even loquacious in his apparent willingness to tell everything.

At the resumption of the trial yesterday morning he took up again the "Bunny" letters. In one of them Bunny wrote, referring to an outing in the spring of 1911: "You said something at that time that paralyzed me with fear when you spoke of somebody dying." Mac-in Philadelphia and had intended to bring it home.

Florence Bromley went to Newark yesterday from Philadelphia prepared to testify if called in MacFarland's defence. She was not put on the stand, however. In an interview she said that she did not In an interview she said that she did not appear at the former trial because she "thought it was obvious to everybody" that MacFarland was innocent. "Now that his life is in danger," she continued; "I feel it my duty to testify."

Both sides summed up last night. Chief Justice Gummere will charge the jury this morning.

HEARD STRIKERS' THREATS.

ury this morning.

two Policemen and a Reporter se Testify in Etter Trial.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 17.-Two Lawrence police officers testified at the trial of Caruso, Giovannitti and Ettor to-day of threats of violence made during the textile strike last winter. Policeman Michael A. Barry said that Giovannitti defended the action of the strikers in kicking and punching operatives and breaking mill windows. He testified that Officer Gallagher said to Giovannitti that the strikers would not win by violence and the defendant relied, "Oh, yes, they will."

Officer Gallagher gave substantially the same testimony.

A Boston newspaper man testified that Ettor said in a speech at the strike head-quarters in Lawrence, 'We will keep the gun shops busy. I am going to buy a gun myself' and that Ettor told the strikers not to forget the police had revolves and the militia bayonets.

Fire Chief Overcome by Smoke. Battalion Fire Chief John Callahan and sev eral firemen were overcome by smoke at a fire 202 Seventh street, Brooklyn, yesterday. The blaze spread with much rapidity and while Callahan and others were at work on the top floor they were overcome by the dense smoke and had to quit. Callahan, who was in a half dazed condition, might have fallen through an open window had he not been seized by Patrick McDermott. He was carried to the street and soon recovered. The loss by the fire amounted to $10,000.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Two Beauty Hints Every Woman Should Know

Complexion blemishes rapidly vanish fter a few applications of a simple spurmax lotion, made by dissolving 4 ounces spurmax in ½ pint witch hazel or hot water and adding 2 teaspoonnisglycerine. This lotion is invisible when on, clears the skin of all cruptions or and made the connection with Becker's apartment.

Another important advance made by the State during the day was the testimony of Lefty Louie's wife that Rose and Schepps had called on the gunmen in their apartment on Southern Boulevard and that her husband had told her that Rose and Schepps were there to talk about Another important advance made by the State during the day was the testimony of Lefty Louie's wife that Rose and Schepps had called on the gunmen in their apartment on Southern Boulevard and that her husband had told her that Rose and Schepps were there to talk about Jack Zelig. Rose had sworn that he went to the gunmen to tell them that it would be all right with Zelig if Becker's hangers-on testimony was produced that the raid on Rosenthal's gambling house was a fake raid.

The State during the day was the testimony of Lefty Louie's wife that Rose and that he had been paid up to July 13 or 14. The apartment was vacated, he said, on July 18. Mr. Moss sent for the gunmen and they were once more lined up at the bar of the court. Reilly was asked if he had seen any of them before. He was positive that he had seen Dago Frank and Whitey Lewis going in and out of the apartment.

Becker's Press Agent Called.

was a fake raid.
Mr. McIntyre insisted that this witness,
Max Margolis, be arrested for perjury, but Justice Goff declined to take such Both Rose and Schepps were recalled by the State to give the defence a chance to cross-question them further. Mr. Hart asked Schepps a few questions, but Mr. McIntyre confessed that he had no further questions to put to Rose.

Mr. McIntyre had protested last Saturday night that Justice Goff was not giving him enough time in which to cross-exam-of the points of appear if appear became necessary.

After making his successful argument against the introduction of Becker's bank accounts Mr. McIntyre made two motions, both formal efforts to secure the dismissal of the indictment and the 'discharge of the defendant on the ground that the State had failed to show that Lieut. Becker had any connection with the murder. These motions Justice Goff promptly denied.

torney Moss asked:
"What connection did you make at 2:57
A. M.?"

Mr. Hart went after the witness pretty roughly on cross-examination, but the boy's answers shook the gravity of the court and left Hart considerably at a disadvantage. Hart was totally unable to break or discredit his testimony.

Mrs. Lillian Rosenberg, wife of Lefty Louie, was called by the State. With Mrs. Gyp the Blood Horowitz, she was arrested with the two gunmen nearly a month ago in an apartment in Glendale, Queens. She gave her testimony with.

Queens, She gave her testimony with.

Q. Are you the wife of Louis Rosenberg!

Mrs. Rosenberg testified that she knew

O. Your husband is now under arres

House of Detention. O. Has any assurance been given you that if you testified your husband would be Q. Did you ever live at the Seventh evenue house.? A. No, sir.

golis from describing the raid, but Justice Goff overruled all objections. Margolis testified that Becker without any legal evidence sent Shepard, one of his men, to get warrants for a raid on Rosenthal after describing to the detective the in-Q. Did you say anything about testifying when you wrote your husband? A. Yes.

Q. Have you seen Jack Rose, Harry ess was? A. Yes; he was a travelling Q. How long was he engaged in that Q. For what did he travel, what did he murder? A. I do not know.

Q. Where were you at the time of murder? A. With my mother.

me a chance."

After Margolis had testified about seeing Mrs. Rosenthal with Becker the testing Mrs. timony was: Q. Did you hear Mrs. Rosenthal say anything? A. Yes. She said, "Why, Charlie, what are you doing?" Then Becker raised his hand and said, "Sshh!" Then they wen? toward the rear of the house and talked for > Q. Then when you went upstairs did Becker follow? A. No. I left him downstairs with Mrs. Rosenthal. Tries to Show Him a Perjurer.

O. What was your

Quite a number of times.

tipster.
Q. How long have you known Lieut

O. And at that time what was your bust-

Press as a tipster and free lance for news-

Lieut. Becker was making raids and repo the fact to the newspapers? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that was why you were at West Forty-fifth street on April 18? A.

from the Central Office squad.

Q. And your business was to go where

What was going on there? A. A raid.

Q. Had you met Becker prior to that aid? A. Yes, the day before.
Q. Who was there? A. There were men

Becker told me to go to Rosenthal and get a description of the fixtures, so if I was

Q. Were you ever in the house before that time? A. No, sir.

Describes Rosenthal Raid.

Mr. McIntyre did his best to keep Mar-terior of the gambling house. Margolis testified:

Becker said to Shepard: "Before you enter the house you will have to enter the basement. There you will see an iron doorway, and you will be asked questions by a inside you will be taken upstairs through the basement to the first floor. There you want that. You will go upstairs, where you will find a roulette wheel and two faro banks." He then told them to go and Mr. Moss led Margolis along to tell the story of how Becker led a squad in the raid and of how he (Margolis) saw and heard most of what happened. Margolis was answering all questions despite Mr. McIntyre's loud objections.

"You wait, sir!" shouted Mr. McIntyre.
"You wait, sir!" shouted Mr. McIntyre.

"You seem so anxious to get this story out of your system that you don't give get warrants to raid the place.

ber of attendants; then if you are let wanted I could swear out a warrant

Q. How often have you seen him?

Q. What was going on when

Mr. McIntyre strove to show the jury that Margolis was a perjurer and a man of generally bad character. Some of the testimony follows: .Q. You were charged with stealing

Q. Did you hear what was said? A. No.

money? A. I was not. That is a lie.
Q. You know Mr. Spencer? A. Yes, sir
He is the chief of the railroad police. Q. He discharged you, didn't he? A. No Q. For whom were you tipster? A.

Wife of "Lefty Louie"

MRS. LOUIS ROSENBERG

walked in.

O. Then you did act as a stool pigeor pigeon means.

'A stool pigeon," said McIntyre, "means Mr. McIntyre made Margolis admit that he had committed perjury in getting evidence for the police. Margolis denied A. I was working for the New York he that he was discharged from the New York Press for taking exclusive stories over the 'phone and selling them to other newspapers. Mcintyre attempted to show that Margolis had cause to seek revenge

Q. Do you recall after the West Thirtyseventh street raid you went to see Becker and he ordered you out? A. No, sir. Q. Did Becker then say that you ran away and that you would not appear in court because the prisoner had given you money to stay away? A. No, he did not.

Q. Did you say to the acting Mayor of Hot Springs, "Tom, my life is as dear to me as yours is to you and I am not going money to stay away? A. No. he did not.

rather strained after that? A. I never A. I did. the case? A. Never. Q. At any time did Becker ask you to get evidence against Rosenthal's gambling state Ouse? A. Yes. sir.

Q. Did he ask you to act in conjunction In part only. with Jack Rose to get the evidence? A.

Q. Did Becker tell you that there was mbling going,on in Rosenthal's place? Yes, sir. Q. Did he tell you that he wanted to aid the place on evidence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you sent to the Hotel Metropole Q. Were you told by Becker that Hawks

Did Becker tell you that if you got in Rosenthal's to look around the place, so you could identity the articles there?

Got $50 From Becker. Q. Did you meet Hawks? A. No, sir. Q. Did Becker at that time give you Q. Did he tell you if you got in the place to play the $50? A. If I got in I had to Q. Did you ever return the $50? A. No I think that will be all from you," said

Asks That Witness Be Arrested.

Mr. McIntyre then asked Justice Gof o order Margolis's arrest for perjury, but he Justice declined to act because the erjury hadn't been committed in his perjury hadn't been committed in his court. Margolis was a poor witness for the State, poor because of admittedly bad conduct; but his story about the fake raid and about Becker's talk with Mrs. Rosenthal was corroborative of what Mrs. Rosenthal herself had said. Margolis was very glad to get off the stand.

The next witness was the notary public who accompanied Lawyer Hart when Hart got the affidavit from Rose in Pollok's house. The notary's name is likely 12.2 A year lead to bus that Rosenthal was a handsome fellow but had no friends, that he was a dirty —— and "ought to have been bumped off long ago."? A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Bunkholdt say to you, "Why did you kill Herman Rosenthal? He was a good fellow."? A. He said "Why did they what a dirty dog he was. He had a gang of guamen and wanted Louis Hoffman likely 12.2 A year lead they had no friends, that he was a dirty —— and "ought to have been bumped off long ago."? A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Bunkholdt say to you, "Why did you kill Herman Rosenthal? He was a dirty —— and "ought to have been bumped off long ago."? A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Bunkholdt say to you, "Why did you kill Herman Rosenthal? He was a dirty —— and "ought to have been bumped off long ago."? A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Bunkholdt say to you, "Why did you kill Herman Rosenthal? Q. Did you say, "Mike, you don't know what a dirty dog he was. He had a gang of guamen and wanted Louis Hoffman like was a dirty —— and "ought to have been bumped off long ago."? A. I did not.

Q. Did Mr. Bunkholdt say to you, "Why did you kill Herman Rosenthal? Q. Did you say, "Mike, you don't know what a dirty dog he was. He had a gang of guamen and wanted Louis Hoffman like you had not not you." k's house. The notary's name is ichard G. Barter. He swore that Becker ock Hart to him. The testimony was:

Q. Do you know the defendant? A. O. Did you meet him in July? A. Yes, you reply that the worst thing they did on the night of July 17.

Booker and Mr. Hart came into the cigar He tore at 145th street and Amsterdam avenue and asked the proprietor if there, was a lotary there and he said. Yes. Mr. Randa a and asked the proprietor if there, was a notary there and he said, "Yes, Mr. Barter." motary there and he said, "Yes, Mr. Barter." Daniel A. Ventien, who is in charge Mr. Hart then asked me if I would object of the signature cards at the Franklin had been executed on Rosenthal's house-hold furniture on March 7, 1912, and satisfied on June 7, 1912. Mr. McIntyre fought hard to keep that evidence out. Sam Schepps was recalled to give counsel for the defence a further opportunity to schepps denied that he had told anybody in Hot Springs that Rosenthal ought to have been "bumped off" long ago, or that Rosenthal was "a dirty dog," or that he had said to a man named Hogaboom, "The worst thing they did was to leave the damned number on the car." cross-examine him. Schepps was very! careful about his answers. Once or twice he corrected Mr. Hart. Mr. Hart tried to make him say that a man named Bergholtz had used certain words, but Schepps quoted Bergholtz's language correctly. Part of the examination was:

Q. Did you say to Pettit that you were Q. Did he reprimand you for throwing devoted to Jack Rose? A. That is only Q. Answer yes or no. A. I did not so to say anything until I see Whitman'

Q. Did you in substance say that? onfession article by article and answer accordingly? A. No, sir.
Q. Did you say to Pettit that you were not going to say anything until you got to Mr. Whitman's office, looked him in the ace and had read Rose's confession? A. Q. Did you say to J. L. Sullivan that Jack Rose was your most particular friend? Q. Did you in substance say that? Q. Did you say to Mr. Johnson the night you were detained at the post office it Hot Springs, when you were posting letter to Jack Rose, that Jack Rose was you best friend on earth and your partner, and that Jack Rose was connected with nearly everything that happened to you? A. I Q. Did you say to Johnson, "That fellos Q. Did you say that if Rosenthal had not been so active in these things—meaning the white slave traffic—he would not have been killed? A. I did not. Did Say City Wasn't Safe. O. Did you say that you left New York cause it was not a safe place for you?

what a dirty dog he was. He had a gang of guamen and wanted Louis Hoffman killed"? A. Yes, I said that. Q. Did you say to Mr. Hogaboom in reply to his remarks that he did not understand why the bunch if they wanted to kill a man went to the main street to do it, did Who was with him? A. Mr. Hart. Where did you meet them? A. Mr. Hart. er and Mr. Hart came it hem? A. Mr. Schenns was not did

"I want to say that we will have free le, and if you want to build new jails

AGED BANKER TO CIRCLE GLOBE.

Albert J. Sauter, who has been with

Accounts on . Cards